

EPICS & Phoebus web tools survey

Tuesday, 8 April 2025 12:20 (5 minutes)

There is currently a wide variety of web tools in the EPICS community, and more and more facilities are developing or adopting them. We would like to perform a survey of tools and interested individuals, to improve visibility of these projects and to provide a space for people who are open to collaboration. A short survey will be made available, and part of the Phoebus developers session will be dedicated towards our next steps.

There will also be a short overview of Web UI plans from the Diamond Controls group.
